Putting the Pro into Paraprofessionals

Presented by Lindy McDaniel, Life Skills Special Education Teacher, Hays USD 489

Part 1: Building Relationships

This is part one of a three part series addressing setting the tone for an effective classroom team. Part one addresses how to use individual strengths, talents and interests to strengthen the team as a whole, and how to cultivate a positive team culture. Running Time: 15:23 minutes; Learning Credits: .5

Part 2: Understanding How We Work Together

In part 2 of 3, Lindy explores how to use strengths, passions and expertise of each other to create an effective classroom team. She discusses how to lay out ground rules, tips for timely communication among staff and how to create specific roles and responsibilities to set the tone for success. Running Time: 17:46 minutes; Learning Credits: .5

Part 3: Growing Your Craft and Team

This third part of the series addresses ways to train staff through pre-service, in-service and on the job training. It provides strategies for how to reflect on classroom practice and share constructive and positive feedback to improve staff skills, morale and student growth. Running Time: 19:-01 minutes; Learning Credits: .5
